GUEST SPEAKER:

AUDRA MARKS, PSY.D.

Dr. Marks is currently the Assistant Director of Health and Human Services at the Village of Hoffman Estates, where she is also the Director of Training and provides direct client care and supervision. She has experience working with students in therapeutic day schools, as well as with people involved in the department of corrections. In addition to her clinical work, Dr. Marks has held adjunct faculty positions in two different graduate programs.

ALLEDALE ASSOCIATION
VALUES PROFESSIONAL
DEVELOPMENT AND TRAINING
AS ONE OF ITS CORE VALUES.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES:

AFTER ATTENDING THIS INTERMEDIATE-LEVEL PROGRAM, PARTICIPANTS SHOULD BE ABLE TO:

1. Discuss the practical application of research and interventions related to emotional experiences in the therapist's life that likely impact therapy and supervision.
2. Apply current research related to intrusions, self-disclosure, and ethics to case studies that highlight the therapist's impact on the client due to the therapist's personal experiences - including secondary trauma.
3. Apply knowledge from presentation to case studies related to therapy and supervision that address "intrusions" or emotional upheavals in the therapist's personal life as a method of increasing competencies and preparedness for difficult interactions in the therapy and supervisory contexts.
