

Allendale

Donor Privacy Policy

- Allendale does not discuss any information about prospective donors or current donors outside of Allendale and all discussions inside Allendale are only as appropriate.
- Allendale honors and protects donors' right to anonymity.
- Allendale only collects donor information lawfully.
- Allendale seeks and records only information that is relevant to the fundraising effort of the organization. Information is accurately recorded.
- Donor information is the property of Allendale and is not given to or sold to any person or organization outside of Allendale.
- Allendale ensures that all information about prospective donors and current donors is stored securely to prevent access by unauthorized persons. If there are any questions about this policy or you would like to review what personal information has been collected and/or make corrections to your information, please contact the Allendale Development Office at 847-245-6204 or via email at develop@allendale4kids.org.